Dear Adam,

Attached please find our results. I acknowledge that encoding the data proved to be quite extensive, requiring the two students another two weeks each to complete the task. I appreciate their efforts in contributing to the progress of our research.

Regarding the inclusion of the paper's authors, I appreciate your willingness to consider including the students in the list. But if it proves logistically challenging due to a large number of contributors, we can revisit this in the future collaborations.
My information:
Yixuan Ku(1),(2)
(1). Guangdong Provincial Key Laboratory of Brain Function and Disease, Center for Brain and Mental Well-being, Department of Psychology, Sun Yat-sen University, Guangzhou, 510006 , China
(2). Peng Cheng Laboratory, Shenzhen, 518000 , China
Students are Jingxuan Huang and Binkun Huang, with the institution (1).

If it will not influence your evaluation system and the journal dose not have a limit for the number of communication emails, I wonder if I could be added to the communication emails for the paper, as in Chinese academic system they only acknowledge those with emails. :(
Your help in this matter is highly appreciated. I wish you the best of luck with the forthcoming submission.

After the participants completed the data collection as you requested, I asked the students also to gather demographic information and several measurements on anxiety and depression (such as DASS-21) from the participants. We will try to work on the data to find whether there exist individual differences for the suppression ability. We will report the results to you if any interesting results emerge. I am looking forward to our continued collaboration and the potential for co-authoring another paper.

Thank you for your understanding and support. Please feel free to contact me for any further discussion or clarification.

Best,

Yixuan

I thought it would be the original data sharing. For the excel spreadsheets, the students still need a while to encode them all. But it won't be long.

Dear Adam,

We have completed both Exp 1 and 2 at Sun Yat-sen University. How can I share the data with you? Is Baidu pan OK?

Hi Everyone

Hope you had a restful break. It's been another 6 months so once again I am emailing you for an update. Some of you have told me that you'd struggle to have everything completed by Dec 2023, so I have spoken to the Editor and we have agreed to extend the deadline to mid 2024 - can each of you please let me know if everything at your lab is on track for completion by May 2024?

Sorry for the repeat emails if we have been in touch recently. Thanks and I look forward to hearing from you all

Happy new year!
Adam
