Hi Adam,

Sorry for the delay. We've completed the data coding. Both spreadsheets are attached.

For the manuscript, there should be three authors from my lab: me (Dustin Calvillo) and two grad students: Alex León and Jennifer Lozano.

Let me know if you have any questions.

Best,
Dustin

Hi Adam,

Sorry for the delay. My duties as department chair sometimes include urgent matters and things get lost. We've finished data collection but still need to code the data. I need to figure out how to do that. I'll look through the OSF materials for instructions and get that done in the next month or two.

Best,
Dustin

I hope this is because you are on vacation rather than some other obstacle that is precluding your lab's progress. I have spoken to the Editor and she has agreed to extend the deadline so can you please give me an update as to if your lab is on track to completing by May 2024?
